

Quality Management

Quality Management

The quality management system (QMS) is deemed as one of the management systems, which concerns with the quality assurance of services provided to citizens and follows up job performance improvement through preparing an integrated system of total quality in all departments and services of the Ministry (quality management system in government institutions) and being awarded the international accreditation ISO9001: 2015.

It also seeks to implement the concepts and systems of quality in the Ministry by instilling the concepts of perfection and excellence to make the principles of total quality a philosophy for all works in pursuit of outstanding performance, which overcomes the gaps and difficulties facing the actual implementation of the quality system in the Ministry.
